

When it comes to human sexuality...

God created something more beautiful and liberating than self-gratification. (12-13)

God will empower His design and will hold you personally accountable. (14)

God designed a union that becomes wonderfully satisfying or incredibly painful. (15-17)

God delights in you when you flee immorality and glorify Him. (18-20)

Questions for Discussion:

What are some of the justifications people today use for sex outside of God's design?

Why are these rationalizations in reality total fallacies?

What significance does Paul's reminder that our bodies will be raised up as the Lord's was have for understanding God's design for sexuality?

How would this perspective differ from that of the average non-Christian?

In what ways is the sexual union more than mere physical contact?

How can such ways impact our lives for good?

If a sexual union is outside of marriage, how can it impact our lives for the worse?

Why do you think many people don't "run away as fast as they can" from sexual immorality?

What are some reasons for limiting the sexual union to God's design?

What are some hedges or walls you can build to help you resist the temptation of sexual immorality?