

Jesus Christ, the eternal judge will...

Come in glory to establish His kingdom.

Perfectly judge everyone by separating the righteous from the unrighteous.

Determine how you will spend your eternity.

Questions for Discussion:

Do you really believe Christ is coming back?

Is your living consistent with what you say you believe?

What temptations can take our eyes off the possibility of His coming back today?

Is there someone you can think of who has blessed you spiritually you have not yet thanked?

If so, who is it, and what did they do? Resolve to let them know this week.

Do you really believe hell exists?

Do you really believe that a Muslim, Jew, Hindu, atheist – anyone who doesn't believe in Christ for the forgiveness of sins will go to hell?

If so, what reasons are the most convincing to you?

If not, what questions about this linger in your mind?

What family members and friends do you have who you think haven't believed in Christ for the forgiveness of their sin?

Does it pain your heart?

On a scale of 1-10 (1 being a cold heart, 10 being a compassionate heart), how would you rate your compassion for them?

What do you think can help you grow in your compassion for them?
